London, June 21.

Yesterday we had a Flanders Mail with the following News.

From the Ghent Courant, dated June 25.

Paris June 25.

ACCORDING to our last News from Madrid, the situation of the Spanish and Portuguese Camps in Estramadura, give us hopes that they can make no Movement without coming to an Action. And we hear from the Court at Fontainbleau, that they Long very much for News from that Quarter. By Letters from the Duke of Orleans's Camp of the 8th we have Advice that on the 7th the Count de Besons march'd with 3 Brigades of Foot and 4 Regiments of Dragoons to Encamp about 2 Miles further, and the 8th by 2 a Clock in the Morning the Duke of Orleans went to joyn the said Count and was next Day to be follow'd by the whole Army. 'Tis now no longer doubted but Tortosa will be Besieg'd, and 'tis said every where, that the Body of Troops commanded by the Count de Bezons which is the Van-guard of the Army, is march'd to Invest that Place. Since the Marshal de Villars has secur'd the Ports and Passes of Provence with a sufficient Number of Troops, our Fears on that side are lessen'd, and the rather because M. de Bellefontaine, has assembled the Marines and form'd them into 4 Battalions, the Militia of the Province is also in Arms. We are also deliver'd from our Apprehensions on the Account of any thing the Allies can undertake on the Moselle, though we have Advice that they are assembling a very great Army. We have nothing from the Duke of Burgundy's Army but that his Highness cantents himself with subsisting his Troops in the Enemy's Country and consuming the Forrage. The Marquis d' Antin has nobly entertain'd all the Retinue of the Court at his House of Petit Bourg. He kept open Hall every Day; invited all the Officers, and order'd Bread Meat, and Wine to be distributed among the Foot-Guards. The King went from his House to Fontainbleau the 19th, the Dauphin having gone thither 3 Days before. The Court Diverts themselves there in the Day-time by Hunting, and in the Evening by other Entertainments. They are to continue at that Place till the 4th of Auguft. But 'tis not thought the Court of St. Germains will go thither. On the 20th the King declar'd that he had made a Promotion of General Officers, viz. Five Lieutenant Generals who are the Marquis de Puyguin, the Marquis de Kercado Senior, the Marquis de Bonzolles, the Count de Villeus and the Count d' Evreux. 2 Marshals de Camp, to wit, the Vidame of Amiens, and the Marquis de Nangis, and 12 Brigadiers, who are the Marquis de Mirabault, the Marquis de Epinay Collonel of the Regiment of Charolois, the Marquis d'Angennes, the Marquis de Luville, the Chevalier de Crouy, the Marquis de Charoft, the Duke de Mortemart, the Marquis de Seigneloy, the Prince de Montbazon, the Sieurs de Huel and Brillach Captains of the French Guards, and the Sieur de Conrade Major of the same.

From the Bruffels Gazette, dated June 26.

Paris, June 22. There are Advices from Spain, which say, that the Expedition against Tortosa is doubtful; since the taking of the great Convoy of Corn, Meal, Oats, and other Provisions design'd for the Subsistance of the Duke of Orleans's Army, which consists of 34 Battallions and 45 Squadrons.

Bruffels, June 26. Friday last the Electoral Prince of Brunswick and Lunenburg arriv'd in the Confederate Army to make the Campaign as a Volunteer. He has taken his Lodgings in the City of Louvain, where the Generals and other Officers of Distinction have been to Complement him. The 4 Battallions detach'd from the Confederate Army, under the Brigadier Evans encamp still on the Counterscarp of this City, and Major General Pallant with 4 Battallions from Aeth encamps still at Vilvord, in order to march where his Presence shall be judg'd most Necessary. Major General Murray is still with the Troops under his Command at Marikerk near Ghent, and is to be considerably reinforc'd in a little time. The French Army continues still at Genappe and Brain la Leu, and during the Forage their Left Wing made on the 24th towards Tubise, Lembeek and Hall, Parties from this City and from our Army took above 200 of their Horse.

From the Ghent Courant, dated June 25. Friday last pass'd thro' this City the English Regiment of Guards from the Camp at Marikerk, and march'd towards Bruffels. That same day the remaining Troops of that Camp, and remov'd to Everghem on on this side the Canal of Bruges.

Francfort, June 17. On the 15th a Courier came to Prince Eugene, with Advice that the Elector of Bavaria and Duke of Berwick were come from the Upper Rhine to Saar-Louis, and were follow'd by the best Troops from Alsace, upon which his Highness went Post by 8 this Morning towards the Moselle. Our Neighbourhood is full of Imperial and Palatine Troops, who are all to march to the Moselle in order to form a Camp of 40000 Men.

Coblentz, June 17. Friday last the Regiment of Hussars of Colonitz pass'd the Rhine at Braubagh 3 Miles from hence and march'd to the Confederate Camp at Gunterhausen, where in a little time they will be 30000. The Elector of Bavaria hath sent an Express to the Netherlands to demand more Assistance.

From the Bruffels Gazette, dated June 26.

From the Confederate Camp at Muhlberg, June 18. The Elector of Hanover arriv'd here the 14th, and was receiv'd by the Baron d' Erffa General of the Artillery. General Thungen being indispos'd, the Elector went to his Quarters that same Day and Conferr'd with him. His Electoral Highness Visited the Lines afterwards, which he found in a good Condition as well as his Troops. He order'd a Bridge to be laid over the Rhine at Daxland near Philipsburg, and has commanded the Troops to be in a readiness to pass the Rhine, for since the French have not left above 10 or 12000 Men in the Lines of Lauterburg, 'tis presum'd his Electoral Highness will either attack those Lines, or undertake something elsewhere considerable. The Hereditary Prince of Baden Dourlach General of the Emperour's Artilleryy arriv'd some Days ago in our Camp.

Hamburg, June 18. To Morrow or next Day the Imperial Commission for the Pacification of our Troubles is to be open'd, at which the Prussian Resident is to assist. We have agreed to pay the Troops of the Circle 200000 Crowns, viz. 60000 before they march off, and the 140000 remaining in two Terms. The Armys in Lithuania are still where they were. Letters from Vilna of the 3d say, the King of Sweden has been to View the Bridge which he had laid over the Berezina, and designs in a few Days to March against the Muscovites. The Czar continues at Petersburg, where his Men work hard on the new Fortifications and in Equipping his Fleet, to put to Sea forthwith with some Land Troops on Board for some Enterprize.

Yesterday also arriv'd a Mail from Holland.

From the Antwerp Courant, dated June 26.

Paris, June 22. We have nothing from Spain but that the Armies on the Frontiers of Portugal continue in sight of one another, and are only separated by the small River Olivenca, so that the Court expects advice of a Battle every hour. The Duke of Orleans

Orleans having receiv'd his great Cannon, ſent the Count de Bezons on the 7th with 8000 Men to inveſt Torteſa, and his Royal Highneſs follow'd on the 18th with his whole Army. Several Couriers arriv'd this Week from the Elector of Bavaria and the Marſhal de Villars, and the King ſeems very much pleas'd with the News they bring. 'Tis ſaid the Duke of Burgundy will ſtay 8 or 10 Days at Genap to conſume the Forage. We talk that 2 Ships with abundance of Gold and Silver are arriv'd from the Indies in one of our Harbours. A Peaſant of the Village of Garne in the Dioceſs of Chartres aged 107, was lately drown'd by falling into a Brook as he was coming home from ſeeing one of his Sons.

The Paris Gazette of the 23d of June Confirms the Advantage the French Troops obtain'd over thoſe of King Charles III. at Falceve in Catalonia formerly mention'd, and the taking 1000 Beeves and 600 Sheep from them, which they had gather'd together from the Country to ſubſiſt the Garriſon of Tortoſa. It adds, that on the 7th of June 130 Priſoners and 70 Deſerters were brought into the Duke of Orleans's Camp. The Deſerters complain for want of Pay, and ſay, they have only receiv'd one Crown ſince they came from Italy.

From the Amſterdam Courant, dated June 26.

Turin, June 9. We have advice that Admiral Leake who arriv'd the 5th on the Coaſt of Genoa, with the Engliſh and Dutch Fleet, has taken or diſpers'd near Catalonia a French Convoy of 120 great Barks, laden with Ammunition and Proviſions, of which 20 only eſcap'd towards Languedoc. He has brought his Prizes to Barcelona, where he has alſo landed ſtore of Proviſions and a great Sum of Money. Mr. Chetwind, her Majeſty of Great Britain's Envoy, is gone hence for Milan, from whence he is to go to Genoa, to haſten the Imbarkment of the Troops deſign'd for Catalonia. Sir John Leake's Fleet which arriv'd in view, conſiſts of 20 Engliſh Men of War, 8 Frigats, 4 Fireſhips, 4 Bomb Galliots, 50 Tranſports, 11 Dutch Men of War, 2 Fireſhips, and 3 Bomb Galliots. That Admiral ſent to Barcelona 70 or 80 French Barks, laden with Proviſions for the Duke of Orleans's Camp, the 3 Men of War and 4 Privateers which Convoy'd them eſcap'd during the Night. All things are ready here for embarking the reſt of the Troops deſign'd for Catalonia. Prince Eugene arriv'd the 21ſt at Ehrenbernſtein, the Elector of Treves's Caſtle, and 'tis hop'd his Army will be in a Condition to March the end of this Month. The Elector of Bavaria is encamp'd betwixt Rolingen and Mertzich, and has made ſeveral Ways be repair'd, the better to cover his March. A Courier was expected from Vienna at Duſſeldorp the 24th, with News of the Elector Palatine's being inveſted in the Upper Palatinat.
